ARNIC students are invited to join the Angle Project, a NYC-based theater group, for a short drama workshop exploring American culture through an American poem. The workshop will give students tools to express themselves and tell stories through activities such as role play, games and acting. Students will also prepare a short performance at the end of the workshop. Come to play, learn, and express yourself!

Location: The Garden Lounge at the English-Speaking Union of the United States
144 East 39th Street, New York, NY

To reserve a seat: call or email Angela Wilkins (awilkins@esuus.org) 212.818.1200 x 239
